

Custom Orders

Please agree to the following before purchasing. Some already made items are in stock at time of listing and can be shipped upon receiving payment for the item, however, if you want that same item made in another color(s) other than what I have showing, then it falls under the category of custom made item and can take up to 30 days to complete full transaction. So if you have a special occasion that the item is needed for, please order a month in advance to ensure delivery on time. On rare occasions, because of brisk sales, delays from the manufacturer, Major Holidays, or USPS, there may be longer delays in completing and delivering orders. If this occurs, you will have the option of waiting until they become available (usually 7-10 days), or your payment will be refunded in full.
